

Adelaide Dahl
69 Brown Street PO Box 3169
Providence, RI 02912
adelaide\_dahl@brown.edu
+1(917)-301-2609

Education

- 2017 - 2021 Brown University
B.Sc. in Biology, concentration in Marine Biology
Advisor: Jon Witman
Relevant Coursework: Principles of Ecology, Marine Biology, Coastal Ecology & Conservation, Ocean Biogeochemical Cycles, Biochemistry, Diversity of Life, Communicating Science Through Visual Media (Rhode Island School of Design collaborative course), Humans Nature and the Environment, Physical Processes in Geology
- 2020 Shoals Marine Laboratory
Relevant Coursework: Shark Biology and Conservation
- 2019 Otago University
Relevant Coursework: Invertebrate Zoology, Conservation Biology, Biological Oceanography

Professional Experience and Teaching

- 2020 - present Undergraduate Thesis Research, Brown University (Rhode Island)
Analysis of photographic quadrat data to identify invertebrate species present in the environment across six years. Statistical software (Excel, R) to be used in analysis of habitat dynamics.
- 2020 Teaching Assistant, Diversity of Life, Brown University (RI)
- 2019 - present Academic Tutoring, Foundation of Living Systems Biology, Diversity of Life, Principles of Ecology, Brown University (RI)
- June-Dec. 2019 Research Assistant, Portobello Marine Laboratory, Otago University (New Zealand)
- June-August 2018 Trip Leader, Overland Summers (Williamstown, MA)
Lead students age 10-16 on hiking and backcountry trips, up to 10 days at a time, in northern Massachusetts and New Hampshire
- 2017 - present Research Assistant, Witman Lab, Brown University (RI)

Projects & Published works

Cisz, K; Dahl, A; Ho, J; Lowe, J; Manlick, L; Weinstein, H. 2020. Lesson Plan "The Dangers of Shark Finning/Overharvesting and Trophic Cascades." Distributed by the International SeaKeepers Society; Available upon request.

Skills

2019 - present      SCUBA certified Open Water Diver

2018 - 2022        NOLS Wilderness First Aid Certification

2013 - present      Visual Arts, Skills in digital media including Creative Cloud (Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, Premiere) and iPad applications (Procreate, Concepts)

Additional Background

2017 - present      NCAA Division I Competitive Rowing, Team Captain 2020-2021, competed in NCAA Championships 2018, 2019
Participated in charity organizations for the Pull for a Cure foundation
Vartan Gregorian Elementary School community partnership